ACU Disability Research Network – Member Profile

Name: Dr Tim Moore

School/Institute: Institute of Child Protection Studies

Faculty: Health Sciences

Relevant professional roles:

- Senior Research Fellow (2005-)
- Co-chair, Asia-Pacific Carer Research Network (2015-)
- Board Member & President, Carers Australia (2007-2013)
- Member, National People with Disability and Carers Council (2011-2014)
- Member, NDIS Expert Group - Eligibility and Assessment (2011-2014)
- Board Member, Carers ACT (2007-2013)

Brief summary of expertise:

Tim is Senior Research Fellow at the Institute of Child Protection Studies. Prior to his work at ACU, Tim established a number of local and national young carer programs and assisted ICPS colleague, Debbie Noble-Carr, in conducting the first National Young Carers Research Project for FaHCSIA. Since 2005, Tim has developed an interest and expertise in participatory research methods with children and young people. Tim has sat on a number of disability and caring, child and youth policy and advocacy committees both in Australia and abroad. He was part of an alliance that helped establish the NDIS and has strong links with the disability and carer sectors.

Completed disability research projects:

- Young carers and their support needs; young carers and education; young adult carers; young people in families affected by parental alcohol and other drug use

Disability research publications:
